

GFWC DUNWOODY WOMAN'S CLUB

Member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC) and GFWC-Georgia

The club is a service organization that provides financial and hands-on contributions that have helped shape Dunwoody and the surrounding community through programs in six program areas:

- Arts
- Conservation
- Education
- Home Life
- International Outreach
- Public Issues

We welcome prospective members at any time.

DWC meets on the third Thursday of each month, September through May, in the Williams Room of the Dunwoody Public Library. Most meetings are at 10 a.m. with a social time from 9:30 to 10:00. We are working to schedule some meetings at a time to accommodate women who cannot attend morning meetings. All members participate in our major fundraiser, the annual Dunwoody Home Tour, held on the first Wednesday of October each year.

If you would like to attend a meeting as our guest, please email Debra Love, Membership Chairman, at debra1926@comcast.net

A 501(c)(3) charitable organization serving the community since 1971

DWC members have been the driving force behind the creation of numerous community organizations including:

- STAGE DOOR PLAYERS, a prominent member of the Atlanta theater community, giving performances and classes for children and adults.
- SPRUILL CENTER FOR THE ARTS, the preeminent arts teaching facility in the Southeast, instructing more than 8000 students yearly.
- DUNWOODY NATURE CENTER, preserving pristine, historic acreage in the heart of Dunwoody as a teaching and recreational center.
- NORTH DEKALB CULTURAL CENTER, home of the public library, Stage Door Players and the Spruill Center for the Arts, through adaptive re-use of the former Dunwoody Elementary School.
