January 2020 Newsletter
President's Message: Maria Barnhart

Happy New Year! Being part of the GFWC Dunwoody Woman's Club can be good for your mental outlook. Here's why - A recent CNN article listed 5 behaviors that can improve your mental health in 2020. They are: practice optimism, start volunteering, be grateful, bolster your social connections, and find your purpose. I am pleased to say that being part of GFWC Dunwoody Woman's Club covers most of these items. Ask a family member, neighbor or friend to accompany you to a DWC meeting or program. If you want to read the article click the link - 5 Ways to Improve your Mental Health in 2020

Thank you to everyone who made the December meeting and luncheon a special one. Thanks to Joyce Niemann for coordinating a wonderful event with Dunwoody Country Club. The lunch was outstanding and the service was excellent. Special thanks to our honored guests - Julie Bates, 2nd Vice President NW District and Karen Clydesdale, President NW District for leading our new member induction ceremony. Thanks also to Debra Love, DWC Membership Chairman for her leadership and support as well.

Congratulations to our new members: Deborah Gault, Jane Boney, Judith Roe, Joan Smith, Libby Ward. I encourage all members to greet these ladies and welcome them to DWC programs and events.

Thank you to the nominating committee for presenting the slate of officers for 2020. Be sure to attend the January 16, 2020 meeting when we will vote on the slate of officers.

MLK Day of Service – In cooperation with GFWC-GA, DWC will make donations to Georgia Cares which is an independent, non-profit organization working to serve child sex trafficking victims across the State of Georgia. If you would like to help, please bring your donation to the January 16th general meeting. Suggested items they can use:

Note pads with teen girl themes, journals, make up for young teen girls, make up bags, books for girls ages 13-18, magazines, lip gloss, travel toiletry kits, lotion or creams for teen girls, hair bows or barrettes. A representative from Georgia Cares will be at the meeting to share information about the organization and accept our donations. Thank you for your support with this worthwhile project.

I look forward to seeing you soon.

Maria

Happy New Year and New Decade to one and all.

Jan. 23 we will carpool at 11:00 to travel to Southbound for lunch and then a tour of the no-kill Chamblee Animal Shelter. Debra has made reservations for us and we hope you will join us for a great day with people who truly care to find homes for all shelter animals.

Adopt-A-Bench: Meredy is continuing to place benches in our local parks. If you want to leave a legacy and provide sitting spots in our parks please contact her for more information. They make a wonderful gift.

Audubon: Joann and Kathy met their new director as well as seeing our old friends there. A program is planned for April to learn more and see their new improved facility..

Dunwoody Nature Center: Pat reports: Dunwoody Nature Center is beautiful and peaceful in every season. Austin School construction is coming to an end and it's a good time to visit OUR recent changes. The Crean Eco-Classroom has been completed and dedicated, and the roof has been planted! Learn about sustainability in 2020 and make an earth-friendly household cleaner during the class on Jan. 12. Volunteers will honor MLK Day on Jan. 20. Early registration for Summer Camp begins on Feb 3rd. The North Woods Pavilion is awesome and versatile venue is available for your event. See the site for event details and about Free First Saturday & Friday Night Hikes. See You there! Contact the Center for any information at www.dunwoodynature.org or call 770-394-3322

Lost Corner: Diana reports Volunteer Day is Jan. 11 from 9-12 Bring water, gloves & garden tools. All ages are welcome and information for classes is at www.friendsoflostcorner.org

Pebble Tossers: Cora reports that they worked on the Atlanta Beltline Gardens this summer and we received approval of funds from DWC to add a feature to that project. You will love getting to know more about this group of children and adults improving our community.

Master Gardeners: Upcoming Brook Run 2nd Sat programs. Jan 11 Richard will present Companion Plantings. These programs are 11-12 at the Brook Run Park's Barn.

Tips: Please plant trees now. Trees Atlanta is offering to plant Neighbortrees in your yard or parks, or contact Arbor Day Foundation for 10 seedlings to plant at the Lost Corner Preserve. If you do plant trees please let Kathy know, our NW District is counting, and planted 160 in 2019. This is the season to plant, please consider native plants and plants that help our pollinators. Don't know what to do with odd recyclables? CHARM does, see what they will take at livethrive.org/charm.

COLLECTION: Books for Little Libraries

Wednesday January 29th 10:00 a.m., Education planning meeting, share your ideas for 2020. We will meet at St. Luke's Presbyterian Church in the Session Room.

Little Libraries:

Our club is responsible for 2 Little Library locations one at The Dunwoody Nature Center and the other at Georgetown Park. If you would like to donate books to our Little Libraries please take your used books and put them in the boxes at either location or bring to General Meeting.

Mark your calendars for the Friends of the Dunwoody Library Book Sale - January 23-25 and 27. The hours on January 23 are 1-4 pm (Friends of the Dunwoody Library members only) and 5-8 pm, January 24/25 - 10 am to 5 pm and January 27 from 10 am to 8 pm. January 27 is Bag Day so you can fill a bag for only $6. This is a great opportunity to get some books for summer reading or gifts for family/friends. You will also find DVDs, CDs, puzzles, games and magazines. There is a separate room for children's books so you can get items for younger readers too. Some items are even new. Prices are very reasonable and start at 25 cents. All proceeds support the local library.

COLLECTION: Feminine hygiene pads for Dunwoody High School nurse's office
New infant, toddler and children's pajamas for GFWC convention table decorations

Many thanks to everyone who brought items throughout the year for the holiday bags for Lutheran Towers. We distributed over 200 bags that contained really nice items. The residents are always glad to see us.

Also, thanks to everyone who participated in our Toys for Tots gathering. We collected over 100 toys to give to the Marines. Thanks to our awesome hostess, Lee Dees, for hosting this event. We are a generous Club!

New Collection Item for January, 2020: The school nurse's office at Dunwoody High School needs feminine hygiene products to distribute to students who cannot afford to buy them. So we will collect feminine hygiene pads at our January general meeting. Please bring pads only, any size and any absorbency.

We are still collecting NEW children, toddler and infant pajamas. These will be used as table decorations at the 2020 International GFWC Convention to be held in downtown Atlanta. After the convention, the pajamas will be donated to The Pajama Program in Atlanta. Please bring these to the January general meeting.

Wednesday, January 22 Home Life Planning Meeting 10:00 a.m. Session Room at Saint Luke's Presbyterian Church Please plan to attend this meeting as we decide on our programs, events, speakers and presentations for the coming year. We had great participation last year and want to repeat that again this year.

The Dunwoody DowWagers Investment Club meets the first Wednesday of each month (except Oct.) at 12:30 p.m. Dunwoody Country Club. Contact Diane Norris if you are interested in joining this group.

COLLECTION - URGENT NEEDS: Travel size toothpaste, child-sized toothbrushes, coloring books, non-toxic crayons, bubbles, puzzles and pull toys

We are going to help Operation Smile again this year. Their Child Life Specialists are licensed professionals that provide psychosocial care and guide the patient and family through the surgical experience. They utilize their knowledge of child development to ease patient fears and anxieties by explaining and demonstrating every aspect of care. They facilitate therapeutic play and activities, working with parents, and act as the child's and family's advocate in the potentially confusing world of the hospital.

They have an urgent need for the following items: travel-sized toothpaste (at least 6 months from expiration date), child-sized toothbrushes, thin 8.5 x 11" coloring books, 8-count box of non-toxic crayons, non-toxic liquid bubbles, puzzles and pull toys. We can send other items as well including: Matchbox cars, "Little People" figures, Soft foam/rubber balls, Blow-up ball, Baby Dolls, Barbie style dolls, Construction paper (pack), markers and stickers.

Please bring donated items to the January meeting

Dates to Remember

January 2020

National Self Defense month

National Stalking Awareness Month

January 20th – Martin Luther King, Jr. Day – See information in our President’s January Message regarding the special GFWC Georgia MLK Day of Service Project benefiting Georgia Cares.

Upcoming Programs

Monday, January 20th – Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service – In addition to the planned GFWC Georgia Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service, the City of Dunwoody citizens and community members can volunteer at Brook Run Park. Volunteers are asked to pre-register on the Dunwoody Parks and Recreation website at <http://bit.ly/dunreccatalog>. Opportunities include planting trees, cleaning up a Dunwoody park, daffodil planting at Brook Run Park, as well as projects at Dunwoody Place Personal Care Home, the Dunwoody Nature Center and Spruill Center for the Arts. Volunteers can also donate non-perishable food items to one of the donation bins on the day of the event at the pavilion at Brook Run Park. Events start at 9:00 a.m. The City of Sandy Springs will hold its annual tribute to Dr. King on Monday, January 20th from 1-4:00 p.m. at City Springs, 1 Galambos Way, Sandy Springs, GA. Now in its 14th year, this MLK Day event will celebrate the spirit of Dr. King by introducing the City’s first annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Day Art and Film Festival. The event is free and open to the community. While there are set times for the film’s showings (1:15 p.m. and 2:45 p.m.), the children’s activities are available throughout the event.

Wednesday, February 5th, 10:00, St. Luke’s Presbyterian Church, Public Issues will join Arts and create Valentine’s and sign Birthday cards for the veterans at the Atlanta VA Hospital and Nursing Home. All supplies will be provided. This is always a fun project.

STANDING COMMITTEES

Book Club: Jean Kammerer

The DWC book club will meet on February 4, 2020 at the parlor of St. Luke’s at 1:15.PM All are welcome. Our book is The Woman in the Castle by Jessica Shattuck with a discussion led by Joan Rush. I hope to see all our old and new friends.

GFWC Clubwoman: Judy Bertrand

What "Great Way" Are You Leading Your Community?

January 21, the Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service, is just around the corner! Let Dr. King’s spirit inspire our club’s day of service: “If I cannot do great things, I can do small things in a great way.”

The work of the foot soldiers of the Civil Rights Movement, the volunteers who advocated for justice, show us that doing a “small thing in a great way” can help pave the way for great things with an enormous impact. While King and other leaders helped focus action, it was the protestors in Birmingham, the thousands who stood on the Mall for the March on Washington, and the fearless students who participated in the Mississippi Freedom Summer, who pushed through the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

From within a Birmingham jail cell, King wrote that “real heroes” embodied, fought for, and carried out the American Civil Rights Movement. The value of service in his name continues today. Install another Little Free Library® and introduce your community to books written by diverse authors and featuring diverse characters, or collect cold weather items for a local school to give to students in need.

The possibilities are endless for our club to make a “great” difference.

January 2020 — Catherine the Great (1729-1796)

This month’s column will be brief because my 2020 resolution #1 is to finish reading “The Romanovs 1613-1918” by Simon Sebag Montefiore. It’s a 748-page weighty tome fastidiously researched using court documents, memos, love notes, and diaries of the most successful dynasty of modern times. The detail is intimate and haunting, and thank goodness the author has placed a score card of sorts before each chapter detailing the primary cast, courtiers and ministers, and who was fighting whom at the time.

Prominent in the book is Catherine the Great, born Princess Sophie of Anhalt-Zerbst. Her name was changed when she was wed off to Peter III, whom she did not suffer well. She was Empress of Russia from 1762 until her death in 1796 and was the country’s longest-ruling female leader. She was attractive, lusty, smart, decisive, a collector of art, and forward thinking.

Catherine came to power in a coup she organized to overthrow her husband and while she did not love Peter, she had plenty of lovers to keep her royal sheets warm. Most of her favorites were nobles and generals whom she used to reform the Russian government and lead her military conquests. When she tired of these lovers, she bought them off with gifts of money, land and “souls.”

Catherine wrote numerous letters and memos every day, and my favorite directive is her ten rules of conduct for court guests. Montefiore lists his favorite three.

1. All ranks to be left at the doors along with swords and hats.
2. Parochialism and ambitions shall likewise be left at the doors.
3. And lastly: One shall not wash dirty linen in public and shall mind one’s own business until one leaves.

Just think what we might accomplish if Catherine the Great’s rules of conduct were posted at the doors of our political chambers.
